The Paving and Sewer Commission reported relative to the condition of Main street, from Congress street to East Washington avenue.

The City has found it necessary, as you are aware, to change the grade of the street between said points.

In consequence of such change of grade, that portion of Main street between said points.

In consequence of such change of grade, that portion of Main street between said points.

Adopted.

The Paving and Sewer Commission recessary, as you are aware, to change the grade of the street between said points.

In consequence of such change of grade, that portion of Main street between said points, especially at foot of Arch and High streets, now is in an actually dangerous condition necessitating immediate action of some kind to render it safe and passable for public travel; and even a temporary remedy would render necessary an outlay by the City of at least $1.000. In view of the foregoing conditions this Commission favors, if possible, the completion of the street grading and paving of Main street, between East Washington avenue and 33 80 Congress street, this year, in preference to that portion of Main street between Congress street and Gilbert street.

Of course the paving of the entire street.

Of course the paving of the entire street as ordered by you, from East Washington avenue to Gilbert street, this year, would be very desirable, but as the matter looks now that is impracticable. The question that confronts us is, what is best to be done?

practicable. The question that confronts us is, what is best to be done?

Let us counsel together and do that which appears to be for the best interest of the city, even though such course involves some sacrifice of pride or personal feelings.

It is solely a business proposition and if it is not possible to do just what we would like to do, let us do the practicable thing.

The city engineer, by actual measurement, has ascertained that the street railway centers on Main street, from East Washington avenue northerly, are nine feet eight inches, and rather than have the present unbearable conditions continue for another year, we have no hesitation in taking the initiative and recommending as the lesser evil that the centers on Main street, between East Washington avenue and Congress street, be increased from nine feet to nine feet eight inches. This widening of centers will not involve or render necessary any cutting or narrowing of sidewalks between said points, nor does it affect in any way nor confer any rights to widen centers on the principal business section of Main street to wit: from Congress street any rights to widen centers on the principal business section of Main street to wit: from Congress street southerly to Gilbert street.

Neither will such widening in the judgment of this Commission cause any appreciable public inconvenience but, on the contrary, public safety will be enhanced thereby.

This Commission is willing to take whatever odium or responsibility attaches to this proposition, and presents to you for consideration and recommends for adoption the following resolutions:

Resolved. That said Company is hereby directed to proceed forthwith to lay grooved rails and to locate its tracks as aforesaid, on said center lines, and to pave its right of way on said atreet, between said points, with wooden blocks and complete the entire work within sixty (60) days from the date of the passage of these resolutions.

He lurched up and down in front of the furnaces, cursing the men, driving them here and there, making all manner of confusion, apparently without reason. O'Leary, his assistant, had done his best to quiet the half crazed foreman. O'Leary and every man on the job knew that the Sommers gun was in grave danger of be ing ruined. It had been scheduled to go into the furnace at 2 o'clock, but Smith shortly after noon had lurched in, called his men together and shoved the gun into the furnace three hours ahead of time. Now it was nearly midnight, and unless the run came out shortly every man knew that it would be completely ruined. It must come out, be brought to the proper tempera-bath-a thousand gallons of oil. The last time Smith had been in charge of the job he had put a gun into the bath at too high a temperature and it had burst at the proving ground. Smith on that occasion had been laid off and had not been brought back to work until the casting of the Sommers gun. Then Pinckney had sent for him and, after a long talk in his private office, had placed the disgraced fore-and very important piece of work. At the casting of the Rhinestrom gun Pinckney himself had taken complete charge, staying in the furnace room until all the work was finished, and the marked difference in the handling of the two jobs had not escaped some
